Relief Corps and G. A. R. Posts Hold Regular Meetings

Plans for future events and an encampment report were the features of the meeting Thursday of the Woman's Relief Corps in the Ontario American Legion hall.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Hattie B. Knoll, the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Ralph H. Marr.

Announcement was made of the meeting of Federation No. 2 in Redlands on Oct. 1. Several members expect to attend.

Upon invitation of Mrs. J. F. Hamilton, extended through one of the members, Mrs. Earl Riggs, the Red, White and Blue club will meet on Tuesday, Oct. 2, in the Hamilton garden.

An invitation was received by the corps from Commander Alois Podrasnik to attend his annual birthday party which probably will be held on Oct. 8.

Reports showed 150 calls were made during the month and a total of $5 was spent in relief work.

Mrs. Alice Reed told of her three weeks visit at Pacific Palisades, where she attended the annual encampment and the camp meeting that also was held at that time.

Preceding the W. R. C. meeting, the Ontario post, G. A. R., was held with two local comrades and six comrades from Pomona attending. Bourbons Mum on Sinclair Program

Local "Regulars" May or May Not Support Leader in Election—Platform Study Is Awaited

Democrats of the Chaffey district were in general non-committal concerning their attitude toward Upton Sinclair, the Bourbon standard-bearer.

"It's too early yet, I may have something to say later," one lifelong Democrat said today.

All interviews with known Democrats resulted in a similar expression. The state Democratic platform was adopted in Sacramento yesterday and more study of the proposal is wanted by local residents before they draw any conclusions—or, at least offer any expressions of their attitude toward the Democratic nominee.

One prominent local Democrat is active in the Merriam-for-Governor club, but he insisted that if his name were made public now it would greatly embarrass him. D. D. McDonald, vitriolic writer on political matters, as editor of the Ontario Herald, and active Democrat, is leader in the Merriam club. Additional members among Democrats and Republicans alike are sought by the club, he said.

Some Democrats here believed that the party's platform would win votes for Sinclair, while others expressed the belief that the "radicals" would withdraw their support.

The Republican party's platform was also adopted in Sacramento yesterday. Hobart R. Alter, assembly nominee from this district, was at the convention. Goufrey Andreas and Frank Baxter were at the Democratic meeting. The three are expected home over the weekend.

Former Uplanders in Auto Crash; Delayed in Trip to Chicago

Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris Hartley, former Upland residents, were back in the city today, not of their own free will, however. They were injured in an automobile accident on Foothill boulevard east of Rialto late Wednesday night, they being enroute to Chicago to visit a daughter, Mrs. Ray E. Bond.

Injuries received in the crash are not serious, they being treated in the San Antonio Community hospital. According to reports they expect to continue their trip east when their condition will permit.

Officials To Attend Municipal Conclave

During the thirty-sixth annual convention of the League of California Municipalities at Pasadena next week, Upland will be represented by Mayor P H. McQuillen, City Councilmen A. H. Johnson, Fred Draper, D. J. Cameron and Godfrey Andreas, City Service Manager R. G. Manley, City Attorney Edward E. Gray and Clerk Ernest Mehl, it was announced today by Mayor McQuillen.

This city is a member of the league, which is the organization of municipal governments in California. The league enrolls more than 200 California cities, and has for its objective the promotion of efficient and economical local government in municipalities. It represents the municipalities as a group before the state legislature, and one of its recent accomplishments was the securing for cities of some $2,800,000 annually of gasoline tax funds for use on city streets.

Mr. Woodbridge had the welfare of the corporation very close to his heart and his death came during a year that was seeing the organization serving more growers than ever. Additional acreages have been added to the concern's accounts.

SAVINGS LARGER AMONG STUDENTS

About Fourth of Upland Pupils Depositing Money in Local Banks

More interest than formerly was shown this week by Upland students in saving money. Every Wednesday throughout the school year is "bank day," when students from the first grade through the junior high school bring their savings to school. The money is collected by a representative of one of the local banks and the savings are deposited in either of the local concerns.

Harland Horak has been named to handle the accounts as they are received from the students. He said today "the savings plan got off to a good start."

He estimated that about one-fourth of the students are participating in the plan with more to join later.

THREE RADIOS ARE ORDERED BY POLICE FOR USE IN UPLAND

Benefit Show Nets Sum Sufficient to Purchase New Equipment

OPERATING COST IS LOW

Use of New System Will Increase Patrol Car Service in District

Three police radio receiving sets have been ordered for the local department. It is expected they will be installed and ready for operation within a week.

Proceeds from the benefit moving picture show in the Upland theatre Wednesday night netted a sum a few dollars more than enough to buy the sets.

Upland 20-30 club sponsored the benefit show with the event being highly successful.

KNFJ is today in operation in Pomona. When the sets are installed in the two patrol cars and in the police station, this city will be linked by ether waves with Pomona. This city will pay no part of the cost of operating the station.

When emergency calls are received from local residents by police, a direct telephone call will be made to the Pomona broadcasting station. The announcer will call the patrol cars, giving directions in responding to the emergency.

Ontario police cars are equipped with the short-wave receiving sets.

Use of the short-wave radio sets will greatly increase the service of the patrol cars, especially in the outlying residential and citrus sections. Patrolmen can remain on their beats throughout the day or night, knowing that if they are wanted, the Pomona broadcasting station will relay the message to them.

At present, they must report to the police station frequently, that being their only means of learning of emergency calls.

When the possibility of using radio sets here was proposed, leaders of the 20-30 club immediately took it up as a civic project. They didn't ask any city council assistance but went ahead on their own initiative to provide the equipment.

At the time of the proposal also, the council had prepared its budget for the 1934-35 year, with no allowance being made for purchase of the equipment. The only expense the city will incur in operating the system is the cost of telephone calls to Pomona.

Traffic Arrests

Arrests for traffic violations by Upland police recently involved the following persons on charges of failing to observe boulevard stop:

Kenneth Andersin, Evelyn Shank, Brawley; Charles W. Hutton, Pasadena; Harve Campbell, Walter Hartz, Los Angeles; D. M. Nall, Fontana.

Those arrested for speeding follow: John Duran, Barstow; Clifford Skinner, Glendale; Orville B. Wheeler, Pomona.

Playground Opening Will Give Upland New Project

Life of Prize Dogs Is Not So Bad

Kennels Here Center of Interest As Many In Southland Come to Buy Pets, Show Animals

Life of prize dogs isn't so bad. And being owner of the prize dogs also has many advantages.

Advantages to the owner come in the form of dollars. Getting fresh meat and milk regularly are among advantages of being prize dogs.

Nineteen dogs, big ones and little ones, form the stock of Strawn's kennels, a side-line business established in recent years. Today it is quite a business with sale of dogs frequently bringing in as much as $75 each.

"We get most of our advertising and business in winning prizes at shows at various places," Mrs. Leslie Strawn related yesterday as she told of persons from many parts of the southland coming here for their puppies. "We sell them at any age from a month or six weeks up."

The son, Eugene Strawn, chipped in: "I think we are going to sell this one right soon," and he pointed to a sprightly Sealyham. It is the son who keeps close tab on the dogs and their records.

In other words, it is very much of a family affair, with Mr. Strawn, a former local dairy proprietor, doing much of the work, with Mrs. Strawn looking after preparation of the meat and other food, and the son, a local school student, assisting and caring for the "pets."

"My son, a veterinian in Los Angeles, took three puppies with him Sunday and some of them are probably sold by now," Mrs. Strawn said. "He sells a lot of them. And then at all the dog shows we have our cards distributed and people soon learn about our kennels."

There is no worry about not being able to sell the dogs. Most people buy them for show animals, others for pets. "The price for dogs is like everything else, it goes up and down," the woman of the kennel institution added. "We want $75 apiece for those little ones over there."

She pointed to a little dog house that had six inmates, their eyes just barely open. Their mother, grandmother and other relatives in the lineage are from prize winning stock. "Their legs are short and that's the way they want them," the junior member of the family firm eagerly added.

"But you never can tell about a show," Mrs. Strawn explained. "It's entirely with the judges. Some will pick one type of dog and others will favor another type."

A dog show is a feature of the closing days of the Los Angeles county fair, but no entries will be made by the Strawn kennels.

Dogs have to be "dressed up" to show, with their skirts (the long hair) being perfectly groomed down the sides, the matron of the kennels said.

Scott terriers, wire haired terriers and Sealyhams are the dogs raised. All of them are of the long-slung type, their short legs barely keeping their bodies off the ground.

The longer the hair is, the better some judges like it, and their coats have to be carefully brushed and cleaned for some time prior to a show, it was explained.

The Strawn kennels are on Sierra Madre street, a short artery leading off of Ninth street east of Grove avenue.

A. B. CHOWNING IS CALLED BY DEATH

Resident of Upland for Past 33 Years Is Laid To Rest Thursday

Austin B. Chowning of 389 Third avenue, a resident of Upland for many years, died Tuesday, Sept. 18, at the San Antonio Community hospital where he had submitted to an operation a few days ago.

Gillette Smith, of 92 West Arrow highway, tells of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Barnard, missionaries in Japan. VARIED EVENTS ON PROGRAM WITH ALL INVITED TO ATTEND

Ceremonies to Mark Beginning of New Community Activity

SERA OFFICIAL COMING

Playground Commission Sponsoring Event—Big Band Will Play

This city's new community center will be "given" to Upland in a program beginning at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

The opening event is expected to unite many in a community program.

Recreational equipment has been placed on the grounds at the Boy Scout lodge, formerly the Y. M. C. A., on Third avenue, and it is this equipment that will be turned over to the use of everyone, in the opening ceremonies Tuesday night.

State Emergency Relief administration (SERA) provided the opportunity for the city to equip the grounds with recreational facilities. The city of Upland and service clubs aided financially.

SERA officials and an SERA 50-piece band will be here to participate in the opening program, along with Mayor P. H. McQuillen and Avery S. Allen, head of the Upland playground commission. Upland was famous in former years due to its weekly band concerts. That was some time ago, however. And the band coming from San Bernardino, paid by SERA, will be the first one heard here in several years.

Around the band concert program those in charge have developed a community entertainment. Brief remarks will be made by Mr. McQuillen and Mr. Allen, with Harold P. Thoreson, county SERA director, to tell of aims and progress of the unemployment relief work.

Nearly a dozen men are today working on the new playground site, getting the equipment and grounds in the best possible condition.

Popular outdoor games of nearly every type can be played on the grounds. Every one will be welcomed to participate in the games in the future with tournaments scheduled to be conducted among local organizations.

Those interested in the development of the city and representatives of all organizations and the general public are invited by those in charge to attend the opening ceremonies.

Cyclist From Kansas Here Looking for Job

Long-distance bicycle riders apparently find Upland an enjoyable stopping place. John W. Richardson of Parsons, Kansas, was here Wednesday, looking for a job. Earlier in the week, a Hollywood bicycle fan stopped here enroute to the national Legion convention at Miami, Florida.

On his two-wheel vehicle, Richardson left Parsons June 11, coming to California by way of Chicago, Salt Lake City, and Reno. He pedaled down the coast, leaving Los Angeles for the east Tuesday. He will take the southern route home, seeking work of any kind wherever he can get it.

Republican Group in District Is Named

Ten persons to serve with J. Fred Anderson as members of the county Republican committee from this district have been appointed by Mr. Anderson. He was recently re-elected to the committee.

His appointees are John Hook, Mrs. Lillian F. Baxter, John D. Howe, Earl E. Marsh, Floyde L. Atwood, Ernest Mehl, and Allan Barr of Upland, and Emory Barkow of Alta Loma and O. P. Whitney of Cucamonga.

Many Coming From Drouth Stricken States

The record-breaking drouth in the middle west is bringing destitute families to California in increased numbers. Familigs from dried-up farms in Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and other states hard hit by lack of rainfall during the summer are abandoning their farms and coming to California. Naturally they regard this state as a haven during the winter. They are bringing what belongings they can on their car and trailer and hoping, no doubt, by some magic they may be benefitted while enjoying the balmy winter in this Golden state.

In some counties of the Southland, such as Los Angeles, the number of destitute families coming from other states has almost doubled in recent months and a check-up by social workers has revealed that the drouth in the middle west has been mainly responsible for this new and increased migration to the Pacific coast.

Because of the fact that so large a number of the indigent transient families come in their own cars this type of influx has been found very difficult to control and it is expected that the task of caring for non-resident families in California this winter is going to be a much larger one than ever before. The fortunate thing about the situation from the local standpoint is the present federal relief set-up for transients in the state. Under this plan local welfare and aid organizations do not have to feed and care for non-residents, as the task has been taken over entirely by the Federal Transient Service. If it were not for this fact it would be almost impossible for California to take care of such a large influx of needy families—as well as more than should be expected of this state and its residents. While numerous warnings have been sent out that people should not come to California unless they are able to take care of themselves or have some kind of employment in sight, destitute families continue to come in increased numbers.

It is greatly hoped that when another year rolls around the drouth stricken areas will be favored with plenty of rain and good crops and that they may be started back on the road to plenty.

Americanism Will Win Out

A newspaper interviewer recently asked Henry Ford if he had faith in the future of the United States. Mr. Ford replied with a definite affirmative—and said that the fundamental spirit of Americanism, which explored and developed this continent, undismayed by the gravest obstacles, would pull us through.

The history of our people fully justifies Mr. Ford in that belief. Times change, and business cycles rise and fall. Experiments come and go, and political parties wax and wane. But that American characteristic which is known as individualism remains. It has faced the severest tests, and has come out on top. The spirit of the founders of this nation, who wrote the Bill of Rights and fought and died for the cause of human freedom, has been passed down to their descendants, as it will be passed on to Americans unborn.

In these times of unrest, when the nation is beset with this and that alien theory, it is a happy thing to reflect upon our heritage. It gave us our greatness in the past—it will maintain our greatness in the future.

What has this country gained since diplomatic recognition was accorded the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics last January? Settlement of the Russian debt question, a vast foreign market for American products and the cessation of soviet propaganda in this country were the three benefits promised. We got neither. There has been absolutely no letting up of soviet propaganda. Russia is buying less from this country than before recognition and negotiations for debt settlement have collapsed. How many Americans thought soviet Russia would fulfill any of these promises? Very few, we are sure. It was by no means the first time glowing promises had been made the American people. "Adding insult to injury"—Russia appeared willing to pay something on account of its war debt—providing they would be loaned still more money over here. What a proposition! And what nerve those Russians have! We hope they have worked unsuspecting Uncle Sam for the last time.

If California is to get any part of the national fund for the relief of unemployment the voters must favor the proposed $24,000,000 bond issue which they are to vote on at the November election. This was the reason for the call of the special session of the state legislature—to insure the proposition getting on the ballot. In other words, to get money from the federal government for relief purposes the state must "match" the government money. And if Californians don't "match" the federal money in this instance it will mean that California will have to bear the entire cost of taking care of its unemployed—or let them go without relief. And Californians are not built that way. There should be no question about the $24,000,000 bond issue being voted upon favorably. It's a case of where it will cost us more if we don't.

And now for football! Even during the warm weather of the past week it was impossible to slow up the enthusiasm of fans. There's something about the game that gives one a thrill that no other sport does—it seems to be the great American sport. Football is one of the things that keep old people young. There is no other sport in which excitement and interest runs so high. And we are now about to witness the kick-off. The game will be on for several months. High schools and colleges teem with excitement and interest in their teams—and the fervor with which the older generation follows the games is none less than that of students. It's a great old game—and it takes you away from a lot of things you don't want to think about.

There are said to be 9,152,282 miles of highways in the world, and of this the United States has approximately one-third, or 3,042,780 miles. No doubt this country has by far the greatest amount of highly improved highways. Coming second in road mileage is Russia, with 1,682,109, and Japan is third with 635,399 miles. This survey was made by a Department of Commerce statistician and covered 145 countries and political subdivisions.

Almost anyone can make a success of his business when times are good—but it sure takes a real go-getter to get by during such years as we have been experiencing. And that includes "big business" as well as the little fellows. Fact is, a lot of the so-called "big boys" have proven to be smaller than the small ones when it came right down to facing the old battle and fighting it out to the finish.

Other Editers' Ideas

Uncle Sam Refunding

Covina Argus: By refunding the fourth liberty loan of the world-war period, the government expects to get a lower rate of interest on a debt of $1,724,758,500, and the banks are expected to absorb the new bonds, which they will do without any question.

These liberty bonds have been called for redemption on October 15. The old method of financing used to be to prepare for a redemption date and meet it with partial or complete retirement, just as a private citizen figured on meeting his notes on time, afterwards signing new obligations if he so desired. But the new way is never to pay a debt, but to refund it. To a very large degree private industry has adopted this method in the past decade.

Of course, as long as the credit of a nation or a private citizen is good it matters little to a bank whether the loan is refunded or a new one made after the old one is paid. But the accumulation of unpaid, refunded debts finally impairs credit. So many of these unpaid, refunded obligations are piled up we all begin to suffer for want of credit. This is a significant phase of the present frozen credit condition.

More of the pay-as-you-go system must be injected into banking and industry before recovery is possible. Banks live on interest, but such a large proportion of the public has destroyed credit, the business of banking is in a bad way along with other business. Cumulative interest charges on principle never paid is a charge for which no actual wealth has been created. It is a dead loss, and the drain on industry finally becomes so great that there must come a halt.

Unless principal and interest charges are met and paid when due instead of being thrust into the future by refunding, we will eventually be obliged to repudiate debts and start all over again.

Another Epic Plan

Vista Press: "End Primaries in California" may properly be a slogan for good citizens to adopt.

The election just held forcibly shows the disadvantages and injustices of the California primary nominating system.

This last election and many other elections that have gone before, prove that the present system either should be done away with or considerably amended.

People form political parties that they may approve candidates pledged to carry out group ideas. Then along comes a candidate for office who will declare himself in favor of any and everything so long as it may get him votes. He confounds all the efforts of Democrats, Republicans, Socialists or other party groups.

In the election just held the Democrats have been made into Socialists, Progressive Republicans, Sinclair Democrats, Commonwealthers, and a few other denominations, while the Republicans have been split up until they don't know whether they are going or are on their way back.

The Persistent Lie

Reseda News: There is nothing more persistent than a lie well told. There is something about human nature that absorbs lies and embraces them with rare fondness. There are those in every community who like to hear mean things about people of respectability, and take delight in passing on an innuendo of damaging implication. Thus are lies born and given impetus by mischievous tale bearers and gossips. It is said that truth crushed to earth will rise again, but never to travel as fast as a lie.

If—

La Habra Star: There seems to be no form of government which human beings can set up without giving one person or one group some special powers. And it seems equally impossible to select for the exercise of these powers people who will not abuse them. Out of these facts arise most of our social and economic troubles. If a government were formed only of people who used their powers rightly it would not make much difference what form of government it happened to be.

No Damage Allowed Widow of A. Rolling

No damages were allowed Mrs. Mattie Rolling, Santa Ana, in her superior court trial to collect $51,800 for the death of her husband, Capt. A. Rolling, from M. B. Hockenberry. Capt. Rolling was injured in an automobile accident on Foothill near Upland nearly a year ago. Mr. Hockenberry was named by Mrs. Rolling as responsible for the crash.

Dr. A. A. Aita, superintendent of the San Antonio Community hospital, supported Mrs. Rolling in her contention that Mr. Rolling's death was due to the crash. Judge F. A. Leonard presided over the case.

Veterans, Farm, Home Bond Issue Favored

County supervisors yesterday gave their support to one of the many propositions to be on the November ballot. The officials adopted a resolution endorsing the proposed $30,000,000 home and farm loan bond issue for veterans. The resolution follows:

"Whereas the California legislature by overwhelming vote of both houses has submitted to the voters a proposal for the issuance of $30,000,000 in bonds for the financing of home construction and farm purchase for war veterans of the state, and

"Whereas this proposal will in no wise increase taxes by virtue of the fact that the purchaser of these homes and farms pays to the state more than sufficient funds for bond retirement, and

"Whereas the passage of this bond issue will prove an impetus to construction and provide much needed employment for California citizens, and

"Whereas the passage of three previous bond issues identical in character has proved beyond question the soundness of the home-purchase plan adopted by California for its veterans, and done so at no expense to the state but rather has served as an aid in maintaining California credit, now therefore

"Be it resolved by the San Bernardino county board of supervisors in session Sept. 13, 1934, that we approve of the California veterans home and farm bond issue as it appears on the November ballot and urge its passage by the voters of this county."

And then he saw his own initials on the band. The salesman had slipped in the back way and donned Bill's good old straw that had been hung up until another summer.

Letters to The News

We Make Mr. DeMeyere Smile

Dear Mr. Guy,—Your editorial page of the 14th inst. held some interest from my point of view, and I enjoyed the letter by Mrs. Constance Beitzell immensely However, it shows that her letter had no effect on you whatever, as you go right on inferring the same things to which she objects, namely: the linking of Sinclair supporters with "Reds" and "Communists."

You even go so far as to bring in the American Legion and the tearing down of a Red flag at Nogales, Ariz. Now, Mr. Guy, has the tearing down of a Red flag at Nogales, Ariz., anything to do with Mr. Sinclair's program of "Ending Poverty in California?" You know it has not, and any intelligent person knows why you write or copy such stuff.

But this does not rile me, it rather makes me smile.

I have been in Southern California since 1907, and naturally know something of the mud the Los Angeles Times has been throwing at Hiram Johnson in these years. And Hiram goes merrily on, this year his only election expenses being his filing fee for the office of U. S. senator. The Times didn't even have a candidate they could back.

But have you or the Times learned anything from that? It seems not.

To give you a more recent illustration. During the recent primary campaign no one threw more mud than Mr. Justice Wardell. And how did it react? The election returns, both in regard to Mr. Wardell and Mr. Sinclair, give the answer.

And to come closer home. Our prominent (only in the eyes of local Republicans) Democratic neighbor, Mr. D. D. McDonald, used the same tactics with the result that he couldn't even make the county central committee, of which he was an incumbent.

So I say, keep it up, Mr. Guy, just so you say something and mention Sinclair's name.

Mr. Sinclair foretold many months ago the very tactics you and other papers are now following, so it is no surprise to us, and we believe that the general public is not so easily fooled. Happened in on a Sinclair meeting last Friday evening in Ontario. It was just 8 o'clock and the audience of some 175 was standing, singing "America." Does that sound like they were very "Red?" That you don't agree with us politically is perfectly all right and the same should go for us.

California will still be the best place to live in after November 6, regardless of who is elected, and let us keep this a "Friendly Community."

Thanking you for publication of this letter, I am, very truly yours,
A. J. DeMeyere

(In spite of the fact that we make Mr. DeMeyere smile, and in spite of the fact that he apparently cannot conceive that a Red in Arizona is of the same stripe as one in California, we still align ourselves with the Californians who are against Sinclair because Reds and Communists are for him and his program. Also in spite of the fact that Mr. DeMeyere insists we are "linking Sinclair supporters with Reds and Communists" we still concede, as we have previously, that there are many good American citizens who are conscientiously supporting Sinclair and his program. We respect these citizens and their opinion, but we do not agree with them—and are just as conscientious in our belief they are wrong.—Editor.)

New Library Books Varied in Subject Matter

From the time when Edwin C. Hill was first heard over the air waves, thousands of requests have been received asking for copies of his talks. As a result he has selected for his book those sketches which he believes to have the widest appeal. The Upland public library includes this volume in the September list of books. "Human Side of the News" presents the happenings of today against the colorful background of the past. Its scope is world-wide. Any page, any article will give a clearer picture of the news today and a better understanding of the news tomorrow.

"Sky Determines"

An interesting and noval approach to the presentation of the strang story of New Mexico, is made by Dr. Ross Calvin in his new book "Sky Determines." Desert environment leaves its impress upon plants and animals as well as men. Thus sky determines the present as it determined the past of New Mexico. "It is no accident that in New Mexico plant life is generally grotesque in appearance; that prehistoric man here attained a level of culture elsewhere unequaled within the boundaries of our country; that Indian life persists uncharged here long after it has disappeared in other parts." The author writes delightfully of his observations and experience in his rides and tramps through the region.

"Great Pacific War"

As a powerful argument against war, comes a new edition of a book by Hector Bywater called "The Great Pacific War." It is by a famous naval expert and describes in full detail an imaginary war between the United States and Japan. Each move is shown with such vividness that the reader seems to participate in every battle, siege and raid. "The outcome," says one reviewer, "strikingly demonstrates the utter futility of such a conflict."

New Hope Given

"Let's Start Over Again," by Vash Young, is literally full of optimism and new courage. A new book by the author of "A Fortune to Share" is a beacon light on the road to recovery. It proposes a cure for the lowered morale and the economic ills of the country. It does not deal with curves and graphs, but with the human heart. The proposals of Mr. Young are practical, as he has proved them in his own life and in the lives of many with whom he has come in contact.

In response to popular request the following titles appear on the new list of books: Cohn, "Take the Witness"; Chase, "Economy of Abundance;" Fulop-Miller, "Rasputin the Holy Devil"; Hedin, "Conquest of Tibet"; Hindus, "Great Offensive"; Overstreet, "We Move in New Directions," and Woolicott, "While Rome Burns." A request may be left at the desk by those borrowers who wish to have any of the titles reserved.

ONTARIO COUNCIL P.-T. A. WILL MEET

First Session of New Year at Upland Junior High on Sept. 26

A program of several outstanding features has been announced by Mrs. Hjalmar Anderson, council president, for the initial meeting of Ontario Council of Parent-Teacher associations, to be held on Wednesday, Sept. 26, at the Upland junior high school building. The Fannie D. Noe association will serve as hostess and will be in charge of the luncheon at the noon hour. Reservations for the luncheon are to be made with Mrs. Anderson, phone 1016-W.

Harold W. Cook, principal of the junior high and superintendent of the Upland elementary schools, will begin his class in school law, which he is to conduct at each meeting during the year, and all members are requested to come equipped with pencils.

On the program will be three speakers, Mrs. Edward Barber of San Bernardino, district program chairman; Mrs. Lois Johnson, district membership chairman, and Mrs. Alfred R. Kipp of Upland, council chairman of international relations.

With the beginning of a new school year, P.-T. A. meetings are being held in the various communities of the Chaffey district, which is served by the Ontario council, and the earnest enthusiasm being shown by all associations is found very encouraging and stimulating by Mrs. Anderson.

Andreas, Baxter at Bourbon Convention

Godfrey Andreas and Frank Baxter are in Sacramento attending the state Democratic committeemen's convention. As the Democratic assembly nominee from this district, Mr. Andreas has a vote at the convention.

He has appointed Mr. Baxter, an Upland Democrat, a member of the state central committee. Additional appointments to the state and county commitees will be made by Mr. Andreas within a short time, he said.

SPEAKER TELLS OF DISSATISFACTION

Ed Shattuck Depicts Conditions at Joint Meeting of 20-30, Lions

What's going to happen socially if present conditions continue?

Ed Shattuck, one of the young civic leaders of Los Angeles, told of dissatisfaction and growing resentment among unemployed when he spoke at the combined meeting of Upland Lions and 20-30 clubs in Upland Inn Tuesday night.

A deputy Los Angeles city attorney, president of the Young Men's Republican club and executive secretary of the junior chamber of commerce and past national president of the 20-30 club, Mr. Shattuck presented opinions obtained from a cross-section of Los Angeles and of the nation.

Some constructive plan must be offered the college graduates and others unable to find a place in the economic system, he declared, in looking upon the 20-30 club and similar organizations as providing the means for such a plan.

Harry McKinney, president of the 20-30 club, served as program chairman. Ralph Sage, a district governor of the 20-30 club under Mr. Shattuck, introduced the speaker. President Glenn Atwood of the Lions club was presented as leader of the guest club.

Theaters, Programs For Week In Valley Given Review Here

George Arliss Film Begins Saturday—

Thousands have heard about George Arliss in "The House of Rothschild" and Manager Jack Anderson of the California theatre, Ontario, has arranged a four-day treat for fans of the district. The famous picture will begin tomorrow and continue four days. It is rated as one of the best products of the film world for many years. In Los Angeles it attracted capacity audiences for months. It comes to the Ontario theatre hailed by Manager Anderson as the prize film of the year.

Ending its run tonight is "Scarlet Empress," featuring Marlene Dietrich. A Will Rogers travelogue will be also presented.

Joan Crawford and Clark Gable at Fox Pomona—

Joan Crawford and Clark Gable pictured above are seen together again in their latest co-starring motion picture, titled "Chained," and which promises to top any of their previous performances, and which will open a five-day engagement at the Fox Pomona tomorrow.

This picture has been rated everywhere it has been shown to be one of the outstanding motion pictures of the year. The picture has broken all existing house records wherever shown and write-ups from coast to coast say it is beyond a doubt the finest effort of both their brilliant careers. Stuart Erwin and Otto Kruger have the main supporting leads.

There will be continuous performances Sunday from 2 to 11 p. m., with four complete shows.

"The Doctor Said No" At Padua Hills—

One of the Precedent Boys is undergoing a major operation at the Little Theatre in Padua Hills. The Precedent family tree in this case is the branch wherein all doctors appearing on stages must enter just before the death scene and shake the head negatively denoting the patient's prospects, or be shown in hospital regalia deciding between a brilliant medical future or love in a cottage. Claire Parrish, by the very amusing expedient of a comedy called "The Doctor Said No," is proving that a doctor, as a dramatic figure, may have a definite part in the plot, in the comedy, and may practically be a hero.

"The Doctor Said No" will be seen at the Little Theatre in Padua Hills for two weeks, with a scheduled closing on Friday, September 28. Performances are given from Monday to Friday, inclusive, with matinees each Wednesday. The Padua Players' summer price schedule still prevails.

"By Candle-Light" at Pasadena Playhouse Next Week—

"Choose Neither Women Nor Linen by Candlelight." This old proverb is the revealing keynote of the gay character of "By Candle-Light," a continental farce-comedy, which comes to the stage of the Pasadena Playhouse Sept. 25.

ONE WORD Worth Millions to Citrus Growers

"Sunkist" has earned and held the confidence of buyers

"Sunkist," trademark of the Exchange, virtually means citrus fruits to the generation that has grown up in America during the last quarter-century.

Unceasingly since 1908, Sunkist advertising has told the consumer new ways to use citrus fruits, new reasons for using them—and why the Sunkist brand is an assurance of dependable quality.

And the public has not been disappointed. Careful grading has earned a confidence which results in a readier demand for Sunkist fruit at the best market price.

The trade shares this preferance. Sound sales policies and more rapid turnover are the reasons.

Thus this single word is worth millions to citrus growers. "Sunkist" on the skin or wrapper of an orange, lemon or grapefruit increases its value to trade and public—and the return it brings its grower.

Local Club Women To Be Called Upon to Consider Plans

A general mobilization of the woman power of the country behind a movement to secure economic security was indicated in action taken at a recent meeting in Colorado Springs of the board of directors of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

At that time a meeting of representatives of five national women's organizations, called by the Business and Professional Women's Federation, was held and a drive on the part of the women's organizations for a few carefully selected economic measures was recommended by the participants. The organizations concerned will be asked to approve the plans.

The board adopted a plan for taking its pronouncement into every one of the 1362 communities in which it had organizations and to other national women's organizations.

The declaration and plan of campaign were presented by Miss Marjorie Shuler of New York City, national corresponding secretary, the declaration reading as follows:

"The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., is prepared to defend such economic security for men and women as will assure to each individual the safeguards guaranteed by the constitution of the United States.

"We stand for sound education, the right to work and to receive rewards sufficient to lift living standards, and safety for the individual's non-productive years

"We will promote in our communities, state, and through our national government economic reforms that will bring about the evolution of social justice. Because there can be no economic security for any class or group unless there is economic security for all, we demand for women employment, appointment, salaries, and promotion on equal terms with men."

The declaration is to be sent to President Roosevelt and the secretary of labor, Miss Frances Perkins. State federations will formally present it to governors and other public officials, and local clubs to mayors and municipal officials, both state and local groups asking also of all candidates for office that they pledge themselves to appoint qualified women to positions.

Other national women's organizations meeting this year will be asked to pass similar resolutions, and women speaking before groups will be asked to emphasize the objective.

Twenty-five years later, on the same day of September and in the same town, their daughter, Ione, and LeGrand Cortright were married, making possible the happy double celebration held Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Cortright have lived in Upland for six years.

An informal reception for their friends was held during the hours of 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m., and 95 guests signed the register, many attending from Upland, Ontario, Pomona, Laguna Beach, San Diego, Santa Ana, San Bernardino, Colton, Riverside, and Fontana. In the dining room the symbolic colors of gold and silver were utilized. The refreshment table, at which Mrs. Cortright and her friend, Mrs. Benjamin Hampson of Pomona, served punch and white and gold wedding cake, bore both gold and silver appointments, with the candles being in those colors and cleverly made wedding bells were gold on one side with the figures 50 and silver on the other side, showing the figures 25.

Favors for the guests were dainty heart-and-hand cookies, made by Mrs. Whipple with cutters fashioned by her grandfather 65 years ago.

The celebration was an altogether delightful occasion and was greatly enjoyed by the scores of guests and their hosts.

PARENTS, TEACHERS IN FIRST MEETING

Fannie Noe Association Has Program and Business Meeting

An auspicious beginning of P.-T. A. activities occurred Wednesday afternoon when the Fannie D. Noe Parent-Teacher association held the first meeting of the school year in the kindergarten room with an unusually large attendance.

Mrs. Harold Stickney, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. A. C. Reynolds, who is ill at her home.

During the business session Mrs. Clair E. Kirk, chairman of the cafeteria committee, reported the delicious 10c plate lunches served at the cafeteria are being greeted with enthusiasm and that patronage of the cafeteria is rapidly increasing each day.

The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Herbert C. Naylor. The membership chairman, Mrs. Eva Moore, made a gratifying report of the number of members already registered.

Receipt of generous contributions for the welfare lunches, one of the major projects of the P.-T. A., was reported by Mrs. Floyde L. Atwood, welfare chairman.

Mrs. Hjalmar Anderson, president of Ontario council, P.-T. A., announced plans for the council meeting to be held on Wednesday, Sept. 26, in the Upland junior high school, with the Fannie D. Noe association serving as hostess. Mrs. Charles V. Benson will be in charge of the luncheon.

In behalf of the executive board members of the association, Mrs. Stickney welcomed Mrs. Irvin A. Engle, who has consented to accept the office of secretary, replacing Mrs. James T. Hendricks, who has moved to Riverside.

At the conclusion of the business session Mrs. Geo. W. Cassell, program chairman, spoke of the plans for the year's work and presented the afternoon's program.

Mrs. A. J. Neilson delighted her audience with three beautiful vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. Cassell at the piano.

Mrs. Owen E. Atwood, third grade teacher, talked on the value of the P.-T. A. to the school, enumerating as some of the material accomplishments of the past year, the improvements in the cafeteria, welfare luncheons, costuming plays, redecorating the lunch room, and curtaining the windows with attractive cretonne; also making the back curtain for the stage and numerous other activities. However, she forcefully emphasized the intangible benefits to the school in the creation of greater understanding and harmony among the teacher, the child and the home.

Mrs. J. Lynward Grahame related specific experiences and incidents wherein the P.-T. A., through its standards, teachings, and the opportunities it affords of acquainting the mothers and teachers, had been an inestimable influence in securing better co-operation from the home, a greater sympathy with the problems of the teachers and giving the child the right attitude toward his school relationships.

The program was followed by a charmingly appointed tea, with Mrs. Ralph Hayslip, chairman of the hospitality committee, as hostess.

The banner for the day's attendance went to Mrs. Kremer's second grade, with 30 percent of the mothers present.

LOCAL BOYS JOIN KNIGHTS DUNAMIS

Eagle Scouts Initiated Into Order—Boy Scouts in Meeting

Three local Eagle Scouts, all members of Boy Scout troop No. 1, were initiated into the Eagle Scout honorary fraternity, the Knights of Dunamis, at a meeting held recently by the Knights of Old Baldy Council at the home of Earl E. Hawthorne, West Eighth street. Knights and Eagle Scouts to the number of 20 from all points in the council district were present, and five Eagle Scouts were made knights, including Richard Olive, Virgil Bryant and William Baily of the local troop.

E. E. Hawthorne was made an Honorary Knight, and Knights O. A. Alderson of Pomona, Scout executive for Old Baldy council, and Arthur H. Bridge, councilor, were present.

The meeting was opened with a pot-luck supper served in the court of the Hawthorne home.

Troop No. 1 Organizes

First regular meeting of Boy Scout troop No. 1 was held Monday night on the court at the home of E. E. Hawthorne, assistant scoutmaster, Scoutmaster H. J. Stickney in charge.

The meeting opened with a wiener roast and the business given attention was mostly the organization of the patrols and planning for the year's work.

The troop will meet each Monday night at its regular headquarters at the Methodist church, the next meeting being held there.

Upland Odd Fellows Greet New District Deputy From Pomona

A large number of members of Euclid lodge No. 68, I. O. O. F., were out Tuesday evening to greet the new district deputy, Bert H Spicer of Pomona, when he made his official visit during the regular lodge meeting

The meeting was conducted by P. H. Evans, noble grand of the lodge, and District Deputy Spicer spoke for the good of the order, making an inspiring address and receiving hearty applause. Many other members were heard from during the evening

Accompanying the district deputy were several members of his home lodge in Pomona.

After the meeting all present assembled in the dining room and refreshments were served.

In the local lodge at the present time two contests are in progress, one in pool and the other in cribbage. Much interest is being taken in these contests and the members attend the meetings every week.

One of the principal objects of Euclid lodge, aside from extending the benefits of the lodge itself, is to entertain its members and at the same time to create an atmosphere that will tend to draw others into the order.

Proposal Will Aid in Tracing Stolen Property, Belief

To enable closer check up on sale of stolen property, an ordinance proposed for the city of Ontario calls on all pawn shop proprietors, loan brokers and secondhand dealers to report daily on articles purchased. The report is to be filed with the chief of police and it is to contain a description of the persons involved in the transactions.

The proposed law was given first reading Monday night and it is scheduled to be adopted Oct. 1.

Stand Fast—America!

By Den Walters

LISTEN—America—once more.

To the closing words of Lincoln's speech at Gettysburg!

Standing on the bloodstained ground of that famous battlefield where Americans had sacrificed their lives for the preservation of human liberty—he said—

"We here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the Earth."

That thrilling message still rings sharp and clear. Stand Fast—America!

Take a look, my fellow countrymen, at the world today. Governments have fallen into the hands of despots who have set up bureaus that rule the people with an iron hand. Basic laws of nations have been set aside by official mandates from these autocratic rulers, to serve their own visionary or selfish purposes.

In our own country two groups are working separately but with a common end in view—to destroy American traditions, to upset our form of government, to take away from us our heritage of liberty.

Both groups are radical. One group has forgotten and the other group never learned the thrilling history of our nation which Americans were taught. They scorn the sacred beauty of our Flag and all the sacred rights guaranteed to each of us by the Constitution. They seek to besmirch the memory of those thousands of brave Americans who sacrificed their very lives that "Government of the People, By the People and for the People shall not perish from the Earth."

One of these groups is composed of visionaries—obsessed with ideas and experiments in government rule regardless of their relation to the Constitution—the nation's basic law.

The other group makes no secret of its intention to overthrow the government of this country by force and violence.

One opportunity to save America remains to us.

Whatever your sentiments, my countrymen, VOTE. You had better realize before it is too late that your enemies and mine—those who would destroy the liberties bequeathed to us by our fathers, those who would curb or even throw entirely overboard our right to own property, to acquire a home, to worship as our conscience dictates, to use our individual talents in a way of our own choosing—these enemies of our priceless heritage of freedom vote to destroy us whenever an opportunity presents itself.

STAND FAST, AMERICA, AND CAST YOUR BALLOTS.

TIGERS POINT TO FULLERTON CLASH

Mitchell Centering Attention on First Two Teams as Reserves Lacking

It will be up to a comparatively small number of men to win Chaffey high school gridiron laurels this season, unless new men on the squad develop faster. At least the first two weeks of practice under Coach Howard Mitchell have resulted in no "big finds" among the reserves.

A week from today Chaffey plays Fullerton in the first practice clash of the season. The same team that has been lined up during this week will probably take the field next Friday.

This team includes Till Cassaletti and Harold Weldon, ends; Francis Johnson and Leon Utman (both of Etiwanda), tackles; Harry Smith and Ray Orr, guards; Elwin Cross, center; Jack Anderson, quarterback; Merton Hill and Bill Smith, halfbacks, and Elbert Cummings, fullback.

The Fullerton clash will provide a tough workout for all members of the squad and today Coach Mitchell listed the following as the most likely reserve material: Leonard Smith and Ernest Schultz, ends; Bill Jones and Albert Lichti, tackles; Frank Swain and Jim Hare, guards; Newman Draper, center; Leroy Brown, quarterback; Hubert Harris and Jack Frost, halfbacks, and Leo Corn, fullback.

Sixty players were issued suits, but about a third of these will be called back before many more nights of practice. Wanting to give everyone a chance, yet forced to center his attention on a smaller squad, Mitchell said today he plans to go through the season with about 40 players.

Several likely players are among the missing, with tackles and quarterbacks among those needed. Vogel, an end last year, is expected to return soon and he will be posted at a tackle berth. Billington, Wager and Roger Pace, backfield material, have been delayed in reporting and Mitchell is looking to them to bolster up the squad.

Bill Bailey of Upland hasn't donned a moleskin this season but he is scheduled to appear as a tackle. Garland Smith, Delahoyde, Williams and Clyde Ovitt will be given a chance if their reporting isn't too late.

Fish, Game Report Depicts Increase in Sporting Activities

Report of the state fish and game commission covering the last two years has been issued. Included in the summary are the following features:

Revenues declined $300,000, yet no activity was curtailed.

Output of the 25 state owned trout hatcheries and two game farms made an all-time record in production. Fish hatcheries propagated and distributed 69,650,000 trout, 24,000,000 salmon and 50,000 small mouth black bass.

Total of 37,000 pheasants were raised on the game farms and liberated in proper areas. To sportsmen's clubs, 33,000 pheasant eggs were sent. Nearly 20,000 quail and more than 1,000 chukor and Hungarian partridges were hatched and raised for liberation.

Purchased from Mexico were 100,000 valley quail.

Hunting license sales showed an increase in 1933 while angling licenses decreased. During 1934, however, sale of angling licenses exceeds that of the previous year.

Smith to Start at Full for U. S. C. in Oxy Game Tomorrow

Bob Smith, described in Los Angeles papers as the "find" for Coach Howard Jones' Trojan grid squad, is scheduled to start at fullback on the second team when it meets the Occidental eleven tomorrow afternoon. The U. S. C. first team will oppose Whittier in the day's double-header.

For his quarterbacking on the Chaffey jaysee eleven for two years Smith got a good send-off when grid practice started last Saturday. Since then he has been used at quarterback and full.

Some dopsters have it figured out that Smith, due to his weight, will be the starting quarterback throughout the season, with Cotton Warburton coming into each game late in the first quarter. One L. A. paper heralded Smith as good enough to oust Inky Wotkyns from the first string fullback job. Cliff Probst, San Bernardino jaysee star, was at full last year, but he has been shifted this year to halfback.

PANTHER JOBS AT STAKE IN FIGHT

Lively Competition Shown by Ambitious Players as Scrimmages Held

As competition is the life of business, so it is in the business of getting a place on the Chaffey jaysee football eleven.

With a wide selection of players, Coach Bert Heiser is seeing a lot of fight among more than two score of candidates for the 11 jobs. Scrimmages this week have seen players, rated earlier as third stringers, playing alongside stars of last season. And other players who were among the favored a year ago were down the line in the rating last night.

Whether it's a little strategy Heiser is using in inspiring more fight or rather new men are really showing better stuff, is not known. At any rate the opposing elevens are going at the scrimmage business like an awful lot was at stake.

And for Heiser, a lot is at stake for next Saturday his Panthers face U. S. C. frosh. Jeff Cravath, coach of the Trobabes, is an old pal of Heiser's—and to win over him would mean very, very much to Bert.

By "dull walls" we mean walls that bore you. Even if they're fresh and new they're not worth putting up with — it's too easy to change boring backgrounds into stimulating settings. A can or two of paint will do it at little cost. Let us give you a few ideas out of our practical experience.

ALTA LOMA-CUCAMONGA

First Graders

Nearly 30 young students in the Alta Loma school and Central school, Cucamonga, are getting accustomed to regular school for the first time. They are in the primary grade and these first two weeks of school have been filled with many thrills.

First graders at Central school are Elino Grasso, Jackie Henderson, Teddy Henderson, Myron Lewis, Billy McLaughlin, Edward Riggans, Eugene Riggans, Claude Silva.

Alice Vindiola, Romona Ybarra and Victoria Ybarra.

Citizenship Papers Issued

Several Alta Loma and Cucamonga residents were given their citizenship papers in ceremonies conducted this week in the county superior court. George G. McCandless of Alta Loma, formerly a resident of Ireland, was accepted as an American citizen. Cucamonga residents included in the class were Benita Rosario, Sanchez and Poli H. Sanchez, both of Spain.

Youth Is Injured

Steve d'Ambrogio was slightly injured when he fell about 10 feet from a loaded truck on Carnelian avenue Wednesday morning. He suffered bruises and abrasions. He was given treatment at San Antonio Community hospital and later returned to his home at Eighth and Center streets.

Cafeteria Is Popular

The cafeteria being operated at the Alta Loma school by the executive board of the Alta Loma P.-T. A., with Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis in charge, is proving a remarkably successful venture, it is stated by Mrs. Harold Cady, president of the P.-T. A. Plate lunches are being served for 10c and bottled milk also is supplied, and mothers of the children are highly pleased with this opportunity to supply their children with hot vegetable lunches, fruit, milk etc. The children also are well satisfied with their lunches and are eager to patronize the dining room.

The P.-T. A. board established the cafeteria, practically without equipment, as an experiment, and since the plan is operating so successfully, the matter of providing equipment for its continued operation will be placed before the P.-T. A. members at their first fall meeting, to be held on Tuesday, Oct. 2.

Mrs. Charles Beckley of Hermosa avenue, who was ill for a few weeks recently, is now fully recovered and has resumed her music classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Stump of Sunnyvale, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. George Arnold, left Tuesday for their home after visiting for two weeks in the Arnold home, 307 North Haven avenue.

Mrs. J. H. Ashmead of 511 Berry avenue, who suffered a broken ankle early last June, is now able to enjoy motor rides. She has been able to walk with the aid of crutches for some time, and she is now quite happy to be able to be out in her car.

Word received Tuesday from Carpenteria by Mrs. Paul Adams told of the sudden death of her father, who succumbed to a heart attack. Mr. and Mrs. Adams left at once for Carpenteria to attend the funeral. Duding their absence their daughter, Ann, is staying in Upland with her friend, Phyllis Atwood.

George H. Parsons, who was painfully injured two weeks ago when his car crashed due to a broken steering gear, while he was enroute home from a business trip to Idaho, is able to sit up part of the time, but he still is suffering intense pain in various portions of his body where he was severely bruised and lacerated. One arm was partially paralyzed in the wreck and is proving very painful. The accident occurred near Baker and Mr. Parsons was picked up unconscious by a passing motorist and given aid.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Brinker of 202 North Ramona avenue motored to San Fernando valley Tuesday and spent the day with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hagan.

The Misses Mary and Eleanor Albert and Mrs. Mary McDonald motored on a recent day to Three Arch bay near Laguna Beach, to see if the Albert beach cottage had been damaged by the recent high tides. They found their property quite safe and they motored on to Newport Beach where considerable damage was done by the breakers.

Emery S. Allen of 217 Lomita drive and his two sons, Alvin and Eugene, returned Wednesday evening from a six days hunting trip in the Mt. Whitney section, going as far as Big Pine, north of Independence.

At the noon hour a box luncheon was served, with Mr. Thrall remaining as special guest.
